

PEPPERDINE UNIVERSITY

School of Public Policy

Pepperdine University's School of Public Policy offers a two-year Master of Public Policy degree. There are also three joint degree programs: a Juris Doctor with a Master of Public Policy; a Master of Business Administration and Master of Public Policy; and a Master of Dispute Resolution with a Master of Public Policy.

Master of Public Policy

The program is carefully designed for a very specific purpose. While the mission of some programs is to train students to be analysts or to design and adopt effective public policies, Pepperdine University is committed to nurturing leaders who can use these tools of analysis and policy design to effect successful implementation and real change. This requires not only useful tools, but critical insights which only a broad exposure to great ideas, courageous thinkers, and extraordinary leaders can encourage. It is based on the conviction that an elevated and elevating culture, as well as personal moral certainties, are the valid concern of higher education and just as important as the tools of analysis. This significant perspective is reflected in the core courses of the Pepperdine curriculum and unashamedly sets it apart from more traditional public policy programs.
