

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Fall 2022

How Does This Course Work?

Pepperdine School of Public Policy recognizes professional experiential and co-curricular opportunities through career development. Learning outcomes for career trajectory occurs through attending professional events, networking, mentorship, connecting with alumni, building community, fostering partnerships, and identifying options that leverage professional goals.

- Students are required to be enrolled in MPP 608 each term; and have 8 points by the end of the term
- Points are obtained by attending co-curricular events
- Events have Point values (see below)
- After attending events, students must submit a 250-word reflection* stating the career impact
- All submissions are to be submitted on Courses for MPP 608, Fall 2022

*Written reflections must be a minimum 250 words providing a description of the event and the career value added to the student's educational and professional experience. Only reflections submitted via these instructions will be considered valid reflections for credit. It is the responsibility of the student to ensure they attend and submit the required number of events and reflections by the stated deadline.

*As described in the Academic Catalog, the School of Public Policy hosts a range of professional development events. These co-curricular activities are intended to provide both career-oriented professional preparation in areas such as job search strategies, career development, and networking, as well as hands-on opportunities to interact with leading scholars and practitioners in the field of public policy. *School of Public Policy students will enroll in MPP 608 for each semester they are enrolled in at least one (1) MPP course carrying more than zero (0) units of credit at the School of Public Policy. For those enrolled in three (3) or more unit-eligible MPP courses, students must accrue eight (8) Professional Development credits; for those enrolled in fewer than three (3) unit-eligible MPP courses, students must accrue four (4) credits.*

Failure to complete the required number of professional development credits (as described above) by at least one (1) week before the end of the term will result in a grade of incomplete ("I") for that term. A grade of incomplete ("I") must be completed by the end of the following term or it will become a grade of no credit ("NC") for the course. Students must successfully complete four (4) terms of MPP 608 in order to complete the MPP program. Failure to complete all four (4) terms will prevent a student from graduating.
