

2025 WASHINGTON, DC, SUMMER SCHOLARS PROGRAM

Application Deadline: Friday, April 18, 2025

The Pepperdine School of Public Policy DC Summer Scholars program offers an exclusive, full-tuition scholarship for a 3-unit seminar held at the Pepperdine campus in DC. Top policy academics and practitioners will provide accepted students with a better understanding of the vital interconnection between culture, history, and public policy. This four-week seminar is open to only 20 qualified scholars selected through a competitive application process. Upon completion, scholars will receive a certificate of specialization in the respective course topic. Credits may be used toward future enrollment at the Pepperdine School of Public Policy for a master of public policy.

.....

HUMANIZING EDUCATION POLICY: A STUDY OF FOUNDATIONAL PHILOSOPHIES AND PRACTICES

July 1–26, 2025

Tuesday and Thursday: 6:30–10 PM ET

Saturday: 8:30 AM–12:30 PM ET

COURSE HIGHLIGHTS:

- Philosophical anthropology in modernity
- How differing views of human nature affect the way we teach
- Integral humanism
- Freedom of conscience in education
- Pragmatist, Marxist, classical liberal, and religious approaches to education

LEARN MORE AND APPLY HERE

