

PEPPERDINE SCHOOL OF PUBLIC POLICY

EXPERTS ON POLICY AND POLITICS

At the Pepperdine School of Public Policy we say “you’ll see policy differently from here.” That’s not just a reference to the breathtaking views on our campus, but also to our unique perspectives on policy and politics. Our faculty and policy experts welcome speaking to your students/organization about the following topics either in person or via webinar!

Dean Pete Peterson

- Viewpoint Diversity: Increasing Conservative Voices on Campus
- How Far Left to Go? California Politics and Policy
- Seeing the Future of Conservatism from Its Past

Assistant Dean Carson Bruno

- California Politics: Past, Present, and Future
- Can California Ever Be an Affordable Place to Live?
- California Dreamin’—Policy Failures and Their Solutions

Dr. Luisa Blanco

- The Links Between Financial Health and Well-Being
- Can Government Encourage Latinos to Save?
- What Are the Racial/Ethnic Differences in Financial Literacy?

Dr. Robert Kaufman

- What Is the “Trump Doctrine” for American Foreign Policy?
- Hot Spots Around the World: China, Iran, North Korea
- The 2018 Midterms: Preview/Review
- What’s the Future of the US Supreme Court?

Dr. Ted McAllister

- Why Conservatism Is Revolutionary
- Where Progressives Came From
- Developing a Clearer Understanding of Justice
- Conservatives and Republicans: Similarities and Differences

Dr. James Prieger

- Should We Regulate the Internet?
- Unintended Consequences: How Regulation Creates Black Markets
- Entrepreneurship Around the Developing World: Too Little or Too Much?

Dr. Michael Shires

- How Conservative Politics Survives Trump: Lessons from California
- High Taxes/Low Services? California Policy: Past and Future
- How Do We Rebuild Economic Opportunity for the Middle Class?
- What Do You Do with an MPP? Careers in Public Policy

SPPEVENTS@PEPPERDINE.EDU | 310.506.7490 (OFFICE) | 310.506.7493 (RECRUITMENT) | PUBLICPOLICY.PEPPERDINE.EDU